(Salt Lake City, Utah) - The Salt Lake City Council will hold a public hearing to receive resident input about the Salt Lake City Traffic Calming program. The City Council regards resident input about the future of this program, potential traffic calming measures and ideas for the public process associated with the program as necessary before the program can continue. Comment received by the City Council will be discussed and reviewed before a final policy decision is made regarding the future of the program:

Date: Tuesday, September 9, 2003

Time: 7:00 p.m.

Location: City & County Building, Room 315
451 South State Street
Salt Lake City
